Backline is a six piece band from Spartanburg, SC. The band came together in February of 2016. The band consists of Katelyn Ingardia-Guitar and Vocals, Alex Hampton - Dobro and Vocals, Jacob Connor -Mandolin and Vocals, Zachary Carter-Banjo and Vocals, Chris Williamson- Doghouse Bass and Clint White-Fiddle.

Backline's choice of material is 80% original written by members of the band, the band or writers outside the band. They also perform traditional covers arranged to fit their personal style. Backline's desire is to share their music through a more modern Bluegrass sound with enough traditional flare that it can be enjoyed by both old and new bluegrass fans alike.

Single "I Need Thy Hand" reached #1 on Bluegrass Today's Weekly Gospel Chart Single

"Lullaby" reached #7 on Bluegrass Today Grassicana Chart

Salem Town Album Debuted at #5 on Billboard Bluegrass Chart

What Folks are Saying:

"Backline, for being relatively young and new as a group, has a close unity that sends you back to double check their pedigree. Beautiful vocals, tight tasty musical support, they are in this as one. Generating all original material with such power is unusual anymore. All of it works like they mined the vast heritage preceding them. In their hearts and souls they did, but this is all Backline." Steve Martin 2018 IBMA Bluegrass Broadcaster of the Year

"With songs that will tug at your heart strings and leave you hummin' a melody all day long...Backline is a wonderful up and coming band that's sure to be a perfect fit with people of all ages." Darin and Brooke Aldridge

"It's encouraging to hear a young band focusing on original material, driven by such strong lead vocals." Kristin Scott Benson
